Terms of registration

- Registration entitles official visitors to enter the Marketplace area and the International Meeting, provided the relevant applications to attend have been submitted, and to attend presentations, showcases and other performances.
- The SHOWCASE will meet the cost of programmers' accommodation, breakfast and lunch. Accommodation consists of rooms with twin beds. Those who prefer a single room must pay the difference to the hotel (by bank transfer before the beginning of the Showcase). This option is subject to availability.
- Each organisation will be offered accommodation, breakfast and lunch for one person. Accompanying people who do not have an official invitation will be offered free passes to the shows (when there is enough space). All other costs will be met by the accompanying people.
- Programmers must inform the organisers of the Showcase in advance if they do not intend to stay on any of the days stated on the application form.
- Priority will be given to programmers who attend the Showcase from the very first day.

Important note

The number of official visitors (from both Spain and abroad) to this year's Showcase who are offered accommodation in hotels will be determined by the funds available for that purpose, and those visitors who are staying for the greatest number of days and those who register earliest will be given preference. Once all the available accommodation has been allocated, official visitors will be offered alternative benefits (e. g. meals, free passes to shows, Showcase literature), and accommodation costs will be met by the relevant programmer, institution or body.
